Student Art Awards: Art teachers Melissa Cramer, Chantele Henry, and Melanie Castellese were present to introduce elementary art students whose work will be on display for an entire year on the walls of the board room. These works of art have also been on display at the Mall of Monroe as well as at the Monroe County Fair. Each student received a certificate of merit.

Monroe High School will host 10th graders from other area high schools to consider enrolling in Monroe High's CTE program for next school year.

Monroe Middle School choirs represented Monroe Public Schools in the Ida Parade of Lights on December 2. They also did some caroling for the Thrift Shop Association, sang at Matthes Tree Farm, and they have an engagement at the Monroe Rotary Club on December 20.

Mrs. Everly thanked Mr. Hoppert for the fine job he did showcasing our district in the ad that was in the Kiwanis Club newspaper.

There are still many events happening around the district before Christmas break. Students will have a half day of school on December 21 and will be on holiday recess until after the New Year. Classes resume on January 3, 2018.

In the latest Monroe Minute Survey, we asked people about their thoughts on customer service. This information will be used in our District School Improvement Planning.
